🔍🔍 Franchise Players

- Must be chosen before the draft from a player on the current roster.
- Contract duration: 2 years.
- Cannot be traded during the duration of the contract.
- Injured or retired franchise players may be replaced under special conditions during the 2-year contract (e.g., insurance clause).
- GMs are not required to choose a Franchise player this season; but can differ until next season.

Rosters

- Protection list should be submitted by Sunday, September 28th, 2025, at 23h59. It is the responsibility of the GM to ensure they have entered their information in. A timestamp will validate if the roster was submitted on time. The site is setup in such a way that you will be prevented from setting your roster after that date and time. If setting your protection list BEFORE designating a franchise player, ensure the player you will want to franchise, is part of your protection list.
- Any player who was on a GM's roster the previous season; but is without a contract for the coming season cannot be protected. However, should that player sign a contract before the draft, they can be protected, and the GM would have to drop a player already protected.
- Protection list must be the following (must include Franchise player, if GM has one):
 - 6 forwards
 - 3 defensemen
 - 1 goalie
- The remainder of the roster will be completed during the draft, for a total roster of 12 forwards, 6 defensemen and 2 goalies.

Trades

- Max Trades per GM: 2
- Trade Deadline: September 29, 2025, at 11:59 PM
- Trade Format: Can be a combination of 2 players and a pick.
- GMs must choose how they want to be contacted for trades. This will be posted on the site for reference
 - Call
 - Text
 - Email
 - WhatsApp
 - Other
- Restrictions:
 - No trades involving 1st or 2nd round picks.
 - GMs no longer require trade approval; but the trade should be sent to Eric, Ian or Stef to have the trade entered on the site. The RHCP committee does reserve the right to review a trade, if something looks and have the right to refuse the trade. This is the equivalent to the NHL's Central Registry who have final say on all trades.

📋 Draft Order & Lottery

- Determined by a lottery involving the 8 GMs who did not finish in the money.
- Simulation and integrity check available at: Lottery Integrity Link
- Based on NHL-style weighted odds.
- The lottery will only set the order for Round 1, all other rounds will be reverse order of finish (11 through 1).
- The code for the lottery was validated by the commission and was found to fairly choose drafting positions.

17 Waiver Drafts

- Waiver Dates:
 - November 7, 2025
 - December 7, 2025
 - January 7, 2026
- Waiver picks are due at 23h59 on the above dates. A timestamp is added when a GM submits their picks. This will ensure GMs did not submit their selections after the deadline. Also, on the off chance two GMs bid the same amount for the same player, the GM who entered their bid first, will be declared the winner.
- Waiver submissions are changing, starting this season. The only acceptable waiver picks will only be those done via the website. Any submission sent via email will be ignored.
- Pick Limit: Max 2 waiver picks per GM per season.
- Max 3 choices can be made in each waiver round. The system will validate the following upon the waiver pick submission:
 - The GM is dropping / bidding on the same positions (e.g. dropping a forward and selecting a defenseman for pickup).
 - The GM will have sufficient funds should they win their bid
- All 3 waiver picks can be submitted over multiple days. If a GM wants to remove a pick before the deadline, they must contact Ian to remove it from the DB (this feature is being developed for GMs to manage independently in the future).
- Waiver Submission: Link to Waiver Picks
- Points Accumulation:
 - The new player starts accumulating only when they have been added to the GM's roster.
 - Points from the dropped player, before being dropped, count towards the GM's point total.
